- Dr. Burl Morris of Delphos was awarded a certificate of appreciation for his "Valuable contributions to the chiropractic and education research foundation" last weekend at the first annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Chiropractic Organizations in Columbus. The Delphos doctor is chairman of the board of the Ohio Federation of Chiropractic Organizations.
- The San Francisco Giants were deadlocked with the New York Yankees in the World Series Tuesday because Chuck Hiller borrowed a 31-ounce "toothpick" bat from pitcher Billy Pierce. It was the first grand slammer hit by a National Leaguer in World Series history and carried the Giants to a 7-3 victory that tied the best-of-seven series at 2-all.

75 Years Ago — 1937

- The hard-hitting American League champions made it three victories in a row Friday by handing the Giants a 5 to 1 drubbing. Monty Pearson started on the mound for the Yankees and pitched up to the seventh inning, when two hits and a run were scored off his delivery. In the ninth, he passed McCarthy and Chiozza on eight pitched balls, filling the bases. He was then relieved by Johnny Murphy and the game ended with a fly by Danning to center where it was captured by DiMaggio.
- Joseph Brinkman, South Canal Street, has purchased the large cement block building on South Canal Street, north of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and is planning to operate a first-class garage there. Brinkman formerly operated a garage on West Second Street and moved his
